

Create Your Homeschool Mission Statement

A simple reflection tool to guide your homeschool with purpose and peace.

What matters most to your family?

List 3-5 core values or priorities that guide your home life and learning.

Examples: faith, curiosity, connection, independence, creativity, rest

What kind of learner do you hope to raise?

Think beyond academics—consider character, habits, and relationships.

How do you want your children to grow during these years?

What does a "successful" homeschool year look like to you?

Define success on your own terms.

This might include family connection, new skills learned, confidence gained, etc.

Draft your mission statement

Use this sentence starter if you'd like—or write your own from scratch.

In our homeschool, we value ____, ____, and ____.

We aim to raise children who ____.

Our goal is to create a learning environment that ____.

This is your starting point. Revisit it often. Let it grow with you.

From Beyond Lesson Plans by Lisa-Anne Berry

www.evelyngracebooks.com/lisa-anneberry